Several Farm Sections In G.P. District Planning To Purchase Rural Phone Lines

Several sections in the Grande Prairie district are taking advantage of the provincial government's offer to purchase rural telephone lines.

Under the Alberta Government Rates any body of legitimate farmers can, by forming themselves into a private company or cooperative association, purchase the existing rural telephone lines at the following prices:

Lines on the ground, 30 cents apiece, including all fixtures, existing wires one cent a pound, which runs on the average of 340 pounds to the mile, telephones, $7.50 apiece, equipped with lightning arrester, and inside wire to the extent of ten feet.

These sales include telephone lines on the highway only, the pole line on the farmer's property being considered his property before purchase.

The Grande district, which already has a telephone line of its own, took advantage of the cheap sales and recently purchased a number of telephone lines.

The Grande district has also taken advantage of the offer and recently purchased six telephones and 1,000 pounds of wire.

A number of additional telephones have been sold to the district, some to the north of Wembley and some to the south, a view of purchasing all rural lines in that area. It is anticipated that if the plan materializes the district will have some thirty telephones.

By paying a separate charge of 50 cents a month per phone, service can be given through the Alberta Government exchange.

Mr. Ross, manager of the local agency, informed The Tribune that the bodies of farmers on the outside had been sold to the district.

At the present time the farmers north of Wembley are arguing with a view of purchasing all rural lines in that area. It is anticipated that if the plan materializes the district will have some thirty telephones.

Death Claims Another Old-Timer G. P. District

The ranks of the old-timers of the Grande Prairie district were further thinned by the death of Julius E. Charlier (age 45), who passed away at the Calgary Sanatorium on March 18, after a lingering illness.

The funeral service was held in St. Joseph's church, Grande Prairie, on Friday, March 23, Father McGuire officiating. Burial took place in the Roman Catholic cemetery at Flying Hill.

The philosopher was P. U. Cluhorn, Martin Anderson, P. M. Kinderwater, and the Putney Bros. B. Oliver, in charge of the funeral arrangements.

Mrs. Josephine Semer of Chicago, a sister, who was present at the funeral, is the only near relative.

The late Mr. Charlier was born at Green Bay, Wisconsin. At the age of 21 he went west, and, answering the call of the North, he came to the Grande Prairie district.

He arrived in the district in 1911, homesteading near Wolf Lake, in the La Glace district. In 1919 he sold his homestead and purchased a farm in the Hermit district.

Shortly afterwards he left for the mines in Idaho, where he worked for some ten years. He returned to this district in 1921, staying for a year, and then went back to the mining fields of the western states, where he worked up to the time of being stricken with lung trouble.

He entered the Calgary Sanatorium, before he died, and during the last few months of his life he was in the hands of the doctors.

He was a very kind and generous man, and was well liked by all who knew him.

PROMINENT CANADIAN TOWN CELEBRATES SEMI-CENTENNIAL ANNIVERSARY

On Sunday last Port Arthur stepped over the "fiftieth" line, having been incorporated as a town on March 25, 1884. Located at the Head of the Lakes, its activities primarily were associated with navigation, hence some of the finest grain elevators on the continent are located on its shores. It was quite natural that its development should be an extensive one, and that it should become a great port of call for the world's commerce.

Light Docket at Sitting of the District Court

A sitting of the district court was held at Grande Prairie on Tuesday afternoon last, the Hon. Justice Dubuc presiding.

Two cases, the approval of several applications for citizenship, and the dealing with minor matters in chambers made up the docket.

In the case of Demmer vs. Guy, the plaintiff sought the return of a horse.

His Honor decided that the horse in question was returned to plaintiff for the defendant pay $55, each party to pay his own costs.

T. W. Lawlor for the plaintiff and D. W. Patterson for the defendant.

Wm. H. Miller vs. Gregory Beaume. This was an action for the payment of wages. After hearing the evidence His Honor decided that a third party should be joined as a co-defendant in the action and the case was adjourned until the April sitting of the court.

T. W. Lawlor for the plaintiff and M. W. Sagar for the defendant.

Nelson & Archibald have gone to considerable trouble to artistically dress their three front windows in an Easter display.

A mechanical device which is quite novel in this part of the country, at the back of the centre window further adds to the interest and attractiveness.

The device presents an action picture of rabbits jumping over a hedge. The whole display is most creditable.

Convention Dates Teachers Changed To April 18-19

The Teachers' Convention of the Grande Prairie Instructors, which was to have been held on April 4 and 5, has been postponed to April 18 and 19.

This action has been considered necessary by the executive on account of receipt of a ruling from the Department of Education to the effect that Monday are legal holidays, and therefore the grants to the school districts and payment of salary for convention days during that week could not be paid.

It had also become apparent to the committee that a number of teachers would not be able to attend at this time, and difficulty had arisen over certain program items.

The convention will now be held on April 18 and 19, when it is hoped that improved conditions will obtain and the inconveniences will be favorable to a better attendance.

According to the Department ruling the four day immediately following Easter Sunday is a legal holiday, and the teachers and teacher union to keep the school in operation during these days, in which case they can receive regular teaching days, with grants and salaries payable for them.

Five-Mile Creek Students Guests At The Capitol

Those sponsoring the theatre party desire to say a real big thank you to Frank Donald for making the very enjoyable evening possible. The double feature picture was in every way an event to look back on with pleasure.

Miss Pearson Feels Honor Is Representative

Greatly benefited by her 21st month's leave of absence, Miss Pearson, matron of the Grande Prairie Municipal Hospital, arrived on Tuesday from Saskatoon, and will enter on her duties on April 29.

Miss Pearson, who recently, was honored by His Excellency the Governor-General by being made a member of the Order of the British Empire, carried the honor most modestly.

The subject being opened by The Tribune reporter, Miss Pearson observed:

"I am glad that the honor has come to the district, but I feel that it is a representative honor for the work which has been done for the sick by all the staff of the hospital."

Speaking of the hospital, Miss Pearson said: "There is yet plenty to do to improve the standing and efficiency of the hospital and the recognition by His Excellency the Governor-General is a stimulus to us all for further endeavor."

The investiture of honors will be held at Government House, Ottawa, on April 25. Unfortunately Miss Pearson will be unable to be present.

Asked about her trip, Miss Pearson replied that she had enjoyed the rest and that her health was very much improved, adding: "I am now ready to go back to work."

Small Millers Opposed to New Marketing Bill

EDMONTON, Mar. 28.—Charging that the wheat marketing bill now before the provincial legislature will be detrimental to the interests of farmers and local millers, a brief statement was submitted to the legislature by Van Allen & Clement, representing the Alberta Millers' Association.

The statement includes about 25 small flour mills and feed grinding plants in the province, and asks that the bill be given a board of power to control the sale and disposition of wheat, but not to restrict the control of the production of wheat.

ARE OUR SCHOOLS OUT OF LINE WITH THE PRACTICAL THINGS OF LIFE?

There are many who believe that our schools—our educational system—are out of line with the practical things of life and therefore should be altered to meet the requirements of life.

On April 15, 1934, the school teachers north of the Peace will meet in convention at Grande Prairie, and it is understood that the resolution will come before the convention.

Whereas this convention, being wholeheartedly in agreement with the following resolution, as presented by Dr. Newlands, high school inspector, before the meeting of the "Travellers' convention":

"Our education is unbalanced because it does not effectively connect with the realities of our present-day social and economic environment. We teach our youth to reverse sacred code and to turn tradition, but we do not teach them to fix a steady gaze on the realities of the modern life.... In preparing our education more intelligently to connect with the needs of the present, we must teach our students with sacred faith."

We therefore humbly recommend:

1. The resolution passed by the annual convention of the U. F. A. asking for the inclusion of a much fuller and freer study of social science in our schools be adopted and put into effect immediately.

2. That a commission, under the chairmanship of Dr. Newlands, be appointed by the Board of Education for the purpose of investigating and advising in regard to a far-reaching program of educational reform in this province.

It will be interesting to note how the resolution will be received by the convention, and as it opens up a large question, the discussion should be an interesting one.

PLENTY OF MONEY FOR DESTRUCTION BUT NOT TO BUILD WITH

Major C. H. Douglas, British economist, sponsor of the Douglas "New Deal" system, in speaking at Vancouver recently, after reviewing his experience in India as an engineer, said:

"We were continually being held up by government workmen who were because there never seemed to be any money. Then along came the war, money seemed to be everywhere, and when you wanted to wreck things, but with a very difficult time when you wanted to build them up."

"Using the national credit for public benefit and not for private profit at present," was one explanation he gave of his system.

Major Douglas uttered a truism. As he stated, money flowed like water during the Great War, but the machinery of destruction operated to full capacity and now, when money is needed to rebuild, it is scarce as water on the desert.

Thousands of men in Canada are unemployed, humiliated by being forced to accept a contemptible daily wage. While none of our governments are in the true sense of the word industrial nations, yet within their borders they can open up certain public works, when completed become national assets that for the time being relieve the unemployed situation.

However, there is something more needed in our economic life than opening up of public works, which only for a time give employment. The solution lies in a lay-off and the problem of unemployment again stares the nation in the face.

The Tribune has from time to time contended that the problems confronting the Canadian people are not political. In fact, there is no large political question even on the horizon. The problems are economic and until we make a distinction between government and industry, we will never get any straight thinking, something absolutely necessary if we are to overcome out of the low levels to which the Canadian has sunk this last year.

As the Tribune sees it, until such time as the industrial revolution really settles that an adjustment is necessary on the industrial plane, we will shadow dance, and like the dog, bay at the moon, in search of a solution for the ills which beset the path of the Canadian people.

While it is true the governments can give a certain lead, they cannot, as now constituted, do what many people are asking them to do.

What is needed is for representatives of all industry to get together and agree to share the burden of labor, thereby taking up the slack of unemployment and giving some stimulus to employment. "Beast water," in keeping with a Canadian standard of living, should be secured.

Again, we say that our problems are economic and not political, and must therefore be solved on the industrial plane.

TIME BRINGS ABOUT STRANGE CHANGES

H. J. Patterson of the Hythe district, who is a collector of horses, told us on Wednesday, The Tribune, that a good deal of the animals were taken from the farms in the district when the horses in the district were in the country. In fact, horse raising was an important branch of agriculture.

According to Mr. Patterson, a recent survey of the district had revealed the fact that the majority of his horses were fifteen years and over, indicating that the district was not for its time horses had not been raising cattle for many years.

Years ago all that was needed at Lusk was to let it be known that horses were needed and a curlew or more of the best type could be snapped up in an afternoon.

The last few years have seen great changes take place. Here we have a district once noted for its fine stock of high-class horses now looking to the West for its supply.

NO LONGER YOUNG
"Man does not die," he kills himself," said Seneca, the Roman philosopher. The apparently has observed that life is frequently cut short by faulty habits of living. Age is not a matter of chronology but of health. Some are physically old at forty; and others are comparatively young at sixty. We have the records of many men and women who have been at their best, physically and mentally, after they had passed into the period of life which is commonly regarded as old.

Hereditary plays a definite part in length of life. Most of those who attain to long lives can boast of a lot of ancestors who attained to a good age. Nevertheless, ancestry is not enough for the hereditary factor can be offset by bad habits, and length of life can be attained by many through good habits, and a poor ancestry as regards long living.

Moderation is apparently the most important aspect to be considered. Plenty of rest, moderation in food and drink, reasonable physical and mental activity, together with a fair share of time spent in the open air—is the proper formula for a long and healthy life for those who wish to live long and enjoy good health while they live.

As we grow older, there is a decrease in physical activity. Less food and less rest are necessary. It is a mistake to think that a person who is old should eat less and rest more. It is a mistake to think that a person who is old should eat less and rest more.

SOME CAUSES OF OUR EXISTING UNEMPLOYMENT
The subject of these articles is New Immigration and Land Settlement. Land settlement as a step towards clearing away the present depression, has been mentioned in the past. It is a subject which has been discussed quite briefly the conditions of the present (so called) "depression," with its widespread unemployment, and great accumulation of unemployment, though needed—agricultural products.

We all know that, during the past year or five years, a strict curtailment of credit has resulted in an almost complete stoppage of business. The result: the resulting curtailment of the purchasing and consuming power of the largest and most conservative—our manual workers—still further unemployment. Through immigration, the demand for food supplies and manufactured goods. This lack of purchasing power has caused a loss of the part of our largest class of consumers, and has caused a loss of the part of our largest class of consumers, and has caused a loss of the part of our largest class of consumers.

It is beyond argument that Canada as a whole needs more people before it can become really prosperous. There are many reasons why an early increase in our population, particularly in the Prairie Provinces, would be beneficial to the Dominion. "IT IS A PLEASURE AS WELL AS A DUTY TO SERVE"

There is satisfaction in raising something good. . . .

Producers who ignore quality are likely to find their goods begging for markets. . . .

"Business isn't improving and more confidence on every hand, but not quite enough confidence yet to start things going in even a moderately normal manner," writes an eastern friend. . . .

If all the enthusiasm devoted to the chasing of novelties and freaks could be mobilized for the same development of staple varieties of crops and standard breeds of live stock, a great deal of wasted effort would be spared. . . .

A review of the agricultural situation in Canada, published by joint authority of the minister of agriculture and of trade and commerce, indicates that Peace River country means alive in her agricultural and economic troubles. In many other regions conditions have been worse. . . .

Producing Cheese Must

"Four years of relatively low prices have not materially reduced the total acreage sown to grain in Canada," says a federal report on the agricultural situation. Natural and human factors mean there is no other occupation open to him, the farmer cannot afford to leave a matter of course. He has his land to keep clean and, though he may be producing, he must produce. . . .

Plum Trees Eat Off By Rabbits

The rabbits have cut my plum trees to pieces about the snow. The snow is very deep. . . .

Ans: If the rabbits have eaten the plum trees only down to the snow and there is sufficient of the old wood above the crown of the plant to start new growth, it seems the best thing would be to let them grow. . . .

WHAT IS AN EPIZOOTIC?

An epizootic is a disease, such as foot and mouth in cattle, influenza in horses, and distemper of dogs, cats, mink, etc., which attacks many animals at the same time. It corresponds to epidemic as applied to diseases of men, but it must at once be made clear that, owing to the extensive activities of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, Canada is fortunate in having experienced the disastrous epizootics which for centuries have swept over many other countries. . . .

BRITAIN TRIES TO HALT AIR RACE AS NEW DISARMAMENT MOVE

Faced by the apparent failure to secure a general disarmament accord, the British government has become increasingly anxious over the aerial security of the British Isles. Reports from London state that Premier Ramsay MacDonald will shortly call an air conference to discuss parity of air armadas. Above on the left is a recent picture of Premier MacDonald raising his hand as if in warning. Top right, a squadron of British Hawker Demons prepare to attack an unknown enemy, while below, center, a torpedo, one of the largest instruments of destruction carried by aeroplanes, is being fitted to a British "Vildebeest" torpedo bomber prior to a practice raid. At the right is Britain's latest machine gun, which is capable of firing one hundred one-and-a-half-pound shells a minute. It is the largest type of automatic quick-firing gun carried by aeroplanes. While not the largest air force in the world, the British air fleet is considered to be one of the most efficient.

THE HOHENZOLLERNS MEET AT DOORN TO DISCUSS THE FUTURE

A report from Amsterdam states that the Hohenzollerns got together last week to discuss the former German Kaiser's failing health, his funeral plans, and the future of the Hohenzollern family. Prince Eitel (top left), who would have taken a prominent part in this meeting had he not been killed in the war, was represented by his wife, Princess Eitel. The former Crown Prince Wilhelm (top center) was present, as was Prince August Wilhelm, top, third from left. The gathering of the "clan" took place in the former Kaiser's residence at Doorn (bottom), and Wilhelm (right) presided.

GENERATES OWN LIGHT

Balmy chibooks that cut down heating bills this winter entirely eliminated lighting expenses for R. H. Borne of Windsor Park, Alberta. ## Youngsters Travel Alone

I loaded with a large paper bag, full of sandwiches and fruit, five young Canadian "voyagers" are seen at Windsor Station, Montreal, where they more than enjoyed themselves while waiting for the train to take them to the Canadian Pacific liner Duchess of York and England. They are

Billy Anderson, 14, and his four sisters, left to right above, Elsa, Blanche, Greta and Owen. Greta, the youngest, is only six. Few youngsters of his age are ever called upon to chaperone four young sisters on a 5,000 mile journey, but Billy shouldered his responsibilities like a man. He was shepherd, guide and constant census-taker of his little flock. The children are going to live with their grand-parents at Fawley, near London. Canadian Pacific representatives and the Traveler's Aid Society cared for them en route. On board the Duchess of York the little girls were looked after by a motherly head-stewardess.

GUARDED FROM DILLINGER

Two husky Ohio National Guardsmen keep a watchful eye on Judge E. E. Everett on his way to court at Lima following threats that John Dillinger would attempt to exact vengeance for conviction of his beer-bum, Harry Pierpont, sentenced to death for murder of sheriff Barker. ## DID NOT KNOW CARUSO USED RECORD INSTEAD OF SINGING

A recent writer says his funniest experience at a banquet was when Caruso was called on to sing at one. "Caruso declined," he said, "but the people were insistent, and Caruso agreed to sing. He went behind a screen and played one of his gramophone records. The audience was spell-bound. Caruso was enjoying a quiet chat with a friend, and at the end of the song he stepped in front of the screen and, with a bow, acknowledged the storm of applause. He explained that his voice was not in good fettle that evening. The audience never knew the trick he played."

GOLDEN MILLER WINS GRAND NATIONAL STEEPCHASE

AINTRIE, England, Mar. 23.—Running a beautiful race throughout, Golden Miller, the favorite at 8 to 1, won the Grand National Steeplechase today by five lengths. Two United States owned horses took second and third—Delange coming in second and Thomson II third. "Should the name of said fruit be changed to a more beautiful name?" That is the question brooding certain importers in Montreal at the moment. Meantime, a shipment of 2,500 fine specimens of said fruit was landed at Halifax from British Honduras and Jamaica aboard the Canadian National ship Lady Somers and Lady Cathcart and rushed to the Montreal market. It is a cross between an orange and a grapefruit, importers explain. They predict a great future for it on the Canadian market, because of its especially intriguing flavor.

WOMAN WAS HARBORMASTER IN WALES FOR 75 YEARS

On the eve of her hundredth birthday anniversary, Mrs. Jane Ellen Jones, harbormaster at Brindisyllen, Wales, for 75 years, has died. She lived in an inn, 300 years old, whose front door was washed by high tide, and there at one time she conducted a night school, teaching art, needlework, domestic science and music. The inn also served as a lighthouse, for she put lamps in the windows as a guide to ships. It is asserted in Wales that in this way Mrs. Jones saved many vessels from disaster.
